

Reframing Justice in a Globalising World

A Public Lecture by Nancy Fraser

Nancy Fraser is one of the leading international figures of Critical Theory. A Professor of Philosophy & Politics in the Graduate Faculty of Political & Social Science at New School University, she is widely regarded as the most important feminist critic and moral philosopher of the present time.

7:30 pm, Thursday 28 July, 2005
Storey Hall, Swanston Street, Melbourne

Tickets: $20 Full / $10 Concession

Purchase & Bookings:

Readers Feast, Melbourne, Tel: 03 9662 4699

New International Bookshop, Carlton, Tel: 03 9662 3744

Sponsored by the Victorian Peace Network, in association with:

Globalism Institute, RMIT University; Institute for Citizenship & Globalisation, Deakin University; Centre for Applied Philosophy & Public Ethics, University of Melbourne; Victorian Council of Churches; Victorian Council of Social Services; Ethnic Communities Council of Victoria; Brotherhood of St Laurence; and Victorian Trades Hall Council